If this sounds reasonable to you, perhaps I should phone Mr. Lally to lay the groundwork for such an interview.

Dear [Redacted]

Among the responsibilities of this office are the development and implementation of Departmental standards, policies and procedures pertaining to cryptographic communications; technical surveillance countermeasures; physical and technical security protection of defense and intelligence information and other security and intelligence requirements related to personnel and operations. These functions are intended to meet standards prescribed by national policies and other pertinent special procedures.

Because of the above responsibilities, and the Department's relation to the defense and intelligence community, we request that a representative of this office be considered for membership on appropriate USIB committees. It is our belief that such representation is essential for our mutual effort in national defense where we have a direct interest and responsibility.

We shall be glad to discuss this subject if required. Should you desire further information, kindly contact this office.

Sincerely,

WORKING PAPER

25X1

Attention:
Executive Secretary

Dear Sir:

As you are aware the Department of Transportation will have certain basic responsibilities pertinent to the national defense. Two of the operating elements of this Department are directly associated with Defense through secure communication network ties and have responsibilities to operate and maintain crypto accounts and equipment in consonance with National policy.

The Department wishes to effectively conform with NSC directive 5711 and operate homogeneously with other Federal agencies in the secure telecommunications field. We also must actively participate in policy and procedure development to assure Departmental secure communications are responsive to the National plan.

The Office of Investigations and Security is responsible for this mission in the Department and will develop and coordinate all policies, programs, plans and procedures related to secure communications.

With these responsibilities in mind we respectfully request membership on the USCSB to permit us to comply with our National and Departmental responsibilities as delineated above.

We request that Mr. Stanley E. Holden of this Office be contacted for coordination of this request and subsequent actions as deemed necessary for our mutual benefit.

Sincerely,

Richard F. Lally
